ADVENTISTS IN QUADRENNIAL SESSION

ELDER KNOX DESCRIBES WORLD-WIDE MISSION OPERATIONS OF CHURCH WHICH INVOLVE A N ANNUAL EXPENDITURE OF MORE THAN TWO MILLION DOLLARS

OBSERVANCE OF NATURE'S LAWS URGED

The manner in which the large amount of business, incident to the conducting of world-wide mission operations, is handled, was told yesterday by Elder W. T. Knox of Washington, D. C., treasurer of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, to the delegates of the Pacific Union Conference, assembled in quadrennial session at the Glendale Adventist Church at California and Isabel streets. Mr. Knox said the world conference is now carrying on a vast enterprise calling for the annual expenditure of more than $2,000,000.

"It is apparent that such a large business enterprise calls for a correspondingly large operating fund. Our operating fund amounts, at the present time, to about $500,000. We have set aside an emergency fund of $75,000, which is invested in the most reliable securities we were able to obtain. This may seem to some a very liberal allowance for the purpose of meeting any great crisis which may arise, yet it would not be sufficient to meet the traveling expenses of one-third of our mission force, should we find it necessary, in an emergency, to bring them back to the home land. This would make no provision whatever in that sort of a crisis for our native workers, so you will understand that our emergency fund is not larger than it ought to be. No one should suppose that we are hoarding conference funds in stocks and bonds, for our aim is to utilize within safe limits for mission operations in the great world field all funds provided for that purpose by our people."

Mr. L. A. Hansen of Washington, D. C., assistant secretary of the Medical Missionary Department of the General Conference, speaking before a large audience in the Adventist church Thursday evening, emphasized the need of practicing and advocating rational health principles. He discountenanced fads and hobbies, and said true health reform will give a man a robust constitution and sound health. Transgression of nature's laws, said Mr. Hansen, is certain to bring its penalty. Late hours, hasty eating, lack of exercise, failure to provide one's self with fresh air or a well-balanced diet, can not fail, he said, to weaken the con-

A PASTORAL LETTER

CARDINAL GIBBONS SENDS COMMUNICATION TO 101 CATHOLIC BISHOPS IN U. S.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—American institutions are "the hope of humanity," according to a pastoral letter to the 101 Catholic bishops in the United States. The letter was signed by Cardinal Gibbons. Catholic women are called upon to be moderate in dress and other forms of display and thus curb the craze for pleasure. The right of labor to a living wage is recognized as is the capitalist's right to a fair profit. "The good sense of our people will solve the labor problem," the letter said.

FIERCE FIGHTING ON AMUR RIVER

WHITES WHO HAVE ATTACKED JAPANESE ARE BEING REINFORCED; RUSSIANS READY FOR PEACE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Feb. 21.—White troops along the Amur river have attacked Japanese forces and fierce fighting is proceeding, according to a wireless communication received today. The whites have sent reinforcements to aid their troops.

Another communication reiterated the statement of the Russian soviet government that it is ready for peace and is fighting only from necessity.

THE CRISIS IN IRELAND

MILITARY AUTHORITIES ORDER PEOPLE TO STAY INDOORS AT NIGHT AFTER FEB. 23

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

DUBLIN, Feb. 21.—The military authorities issued a proclamation today ordering all residents of Dublin to stay in-doors between midnight and 5 a. m. unless specially permitted to be on the streets. The order will become effective February 23. It followed extensive raids by the military on Thursday and early Friday at the various headquarters of the Sin Fein Volunteers. Many hundreds were arrested. Armored cars and tanks were used by the military. Discussion in Sinn Fein circles centers on Premier Lloyd George's home rule bill which is scheduled to come before House of Commons next week. Sinn Fein leaders continued to be cautious in their comments on the home rule plan. There was, however, a noticeable change in their attitude of refusal to even consider the premier's measure.

CLASH OVER JUROR

EXCEPTIONS TAKEN BY ATTORNEY FOR DEFENSE IN THE BISBEE TRIALS OVER-RULED BY JUDGE

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., Feb. 21.—E. H. Smith, a cattleman, who yesterday criticized strikes, today was placed as a juror in the Bisbee deportation and kidnaping cases after he had volunteered the opinion that the deportations were wrong.

Attorney Frank Curley for the defense, questioned Smith searchingly and made an attempt to convince Judge Pattee that Smith should be disqualified. The judge ruled that Smith's manner and attitude convinced him that he should be qualified.

"The defense takes exceptions," interposed Curley.

"You don't have to. The law does it for you," retorted the judge.

Smith took the place in the jury box of Juror Lewis who was shot last Wednesday. The sheriff's office today reported that Lewis could not recover. A brother of J. B. Feals who was originally arrested for shooting Lewis, was arrested today and is held on the same charge.

LABOR APPEALS TO PRESIDENT

DECLARES ESCH-CUMMINS RAILROAD BILL NOT ACCEPTABLE; ASKS WILSON TO ACT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Labor today carried its fight on the Esch-Cummins railroad bill to President Wilson. In a letter delivered at the White House, union leaders attack the labor clauses in the bill as well as the provisions for a guaranteed return of five and a half per cent, and practically refuse to submit their wage arbitration problems to a congressional commission as proposed by the president. The letter declared: "Analysis of the labor provisions of the bill seems sufficient to warrant the definite conclusion that Congress has not proposed a method of procedure acceptable at any time and that the proposal is entirely inadequate to meet the present situation."

The union men further make it clear that they believe President Wilson should go ahead with his plans independent of Congress to set up a tribunal to handle wage matters.

"We feel sure," the union men wrote to the president, "that you can agree with us to the extent that there is little likelihood that Congress would be able to reach an agreement that would insure a prompt disposition of the question."

CALL TO SERVICE

GLENDALE MOTHER SENDS MESSAGE FROM THE SICK ROOM TO OTHER MOTHERS

To the women of the country, especially where there is influenza. Just at this time there is as much of a call to arms as when our country was at war, when we dropped all social activities, denied ourselves and spent hours making surgical dressings, sewing and raising funds to carry on.

Especially to those women who are well and have faith in their God, those who have no children, there is at this time need for you. Go to these homes where there is sickness, go prepared to stay and help them in their need, some times even though there is a nurse there is great need for a helper in the kitchen, in the laundry, with the smaller children.

Sometimes the mother is gone and the father is left alone with his family and this serious illness comes and it is impossible to get help, his little ones die, because there was no one to help him take care of his sick ones. If you had known that he needed help and he had known that you would help him, things might have been better with him and his. Go to those who are in authority; tell them you stand ready to do your part in this time of trouble. God will bless you and when you go to your work take hold of the right hand of God and he will help you in your work. Your labor will not be in vain.

To those women who are having helpers, help yourselves at this time; tell your helpers that when the call comes for help, to go. Now is the time when lives are saved because there is some one to do for them or perhaps lost for want of some one to do for them. The little every-day things will wait some more convenient time.

Have your house in order; have your children's clothes ready, your own clothes ready; have enough to clothe them and keep a supply ready for sickness. This some times comes on like a thief in the night, and if your earthly house is in order, you can use all your strength to fight the illness and overcome it.

Perhaps you will have to do without some things socially and otherwise to be prepared, but what are things when you know and can feel that you have done your best for your family.

RETIRED RAILROADERS

J. C. BARDSLEY ENTERTAINS FORMER FELLOW CONDUCTORS ON THE SOO LINE

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bardsley of North Glendale avenue entertained on Friday B. M. Lewis of Minneapolis, Minn., who is spending the winter in Los Angeles. He and Mrs. Bardsley were conductors of the Soo line for many years beginning their railroad work about fifty years ago. He has visited the Bardsleys nearly every winter for the past twelve years as he makes a practice of spending the cold season here. He is now retired but is still interested in world movements and railroad problems. He approves the return of the railroads to their owners with suitable government control.

RIFLE RANGE ROBBED

The army rifle range in the upper part of Scholl Canyon, northeast of the city, was the scene of a robbery some time between Thursday noon and Friday evening. Some officers from the Arcadia Balloon School who have oversight of the range, were there Thursday forenoon and went back again last evening. They found that the tool house had been broken into and found that a valuable telephone field set used by the signal corps of the Arcadia School had been carried away.

ANDREW McINTYRE SELLS AND BUYS

Andrew McIntyre sold his residence property at 135 S. Isabel recently to Dr. Moffatt of Wisconsin, who was in Glendale on a visit. He liked the city so well that he determined to locate. He has gone back to his Wisconsin home and will bring his family out here next fall. Mr. McIntyre has bought E. Quinch's place at 718 E. Harvard and will move in soon, as Mr. and Mrs. Quinch expect to locate in Riverside, where they have relatives, the Fowlers, formerly of Glendale. Mr. and Mrs. Quinch had lived in the property they just sold for over seven years.

CHAFFEE BUYS ACME

THIS GIVES CHAFFEE GREATEST CHAIN OF GROCERY STORES IN THE WEST

Recent rumor of the consolidation of the Chaffee and Acme chains of grocery stores and meat markets were confirmed this morning by Robert Freeman, manager of the Glendale Chaffee store. The Chaffee company bought a controlling interest in the Acme corporation and will assume full charge of all the Acme stores and markets on March 1, after inventories have been taken in the stores comprising the two chains. This purchase gives the Chaffee company a chain of 61 stores, covering Los Angeles and the surrounding territory pretty thoroughly. Most of the Acme stores are located in the city and it is only of late that surrounding towns have been invaded. Chaffee has followed the opposite plan, only one of his stores being in Los Angeles. While it is probable that the Chaffee and Acme stores in Glendale will be consolidated after March 1, and a similar plan pursued in Burbank, no announcement to this effect has been made as yet. Roy K. Smith, formerly of Glendale, who is superintendent of all the Acme stores will be retained by the Chaffee Co., as will be the secretary and treasurer.

WOOLSEYS WILL MOVE TO PASADENA

C. H. Woolsey and wife, who recently sold their place at 324 Milford to Hearn Robinson, will move next Monday to 146 Terrace Place, Pasadena. Mr. Woolsey, who works for the Southern California Telephone Co., has been in poor health for some time and is now taking a needed vacation. He is ordered to stay out of doors as much as possible, so, as no place with large grounds could be rented in Glendale, they were forced to locate elsewhere. Mrs. Woolsey says they are determined to return to Glendale as soon as they can buy a suitable place.

DEATH OF ELIZABETH ANN LONG

Elizabeth Ann Long, wife of J. H. Long, died at her home, 410 West Garfield February 19, 1920, at 8:30 p. m. She had been a sufferer from intestinal trouble for a long time and had been cared for by her sister-in-law and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Entwistle, of Paterson, N. J., who came to Glendale several weeks ago to minister to her needs. Deceased was fifty-eight years of age, was a native of England and had resided in Glendale for about fifteen years. She had been a nurse here and had a large circle of friends by whom she will be much missed. She leaves a mother and two brothers in Paterson, N. J.—Mrs. Sarah Entwistle, Alfred and Claude Entwistle. Funeral services, of which the Scovern Company will have charge, will be held Monday in the Little Church of the Flowers at Forest Lawn Memorial Park at 3 p. m.

FOOTHILL CLUB MEETING POSTPONED

The meeting of the Foothill Club which was to have been held Friday the 20th at the home of the president, Mrs. William S. Porter, on N. Brand Blvd., was postponed on account of the influenza. This was quite a disappointment to the hostess and all concerned, as it was the annual meeting at which officers for the coming year were to have been elected, and Mrs. Porter had provided quite an elaborate program. The meeting will not take place now in all probability until next month. The club was organized on Lincoln's birthday in 1914 when twenty-four ladies of the neighborhood met at the home of Mrs. Julius Kranz, and it has been in existence ever since that date.

WEDDING CELEBRATED

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Daugherty of 700 East Harvard Street entertained their neighbors, the Pearsons, at a six o'clock dinner on Friday evening. The table with all its appointments, beautiful dishes and place cards was a pretty sight. It was the fifty-fourth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Pearson, the beautiful cake, which had the place of honor, bore the dates 1866-1920 in color matching the dessert. Mrs. Daugherty read an original poem written for the old people, who were married in North Carolina February 20 1866.

LEAGUE BANQUET

REPRESENTATIVES OF TWENTY ORGANIZATIONS ENTERTAINED AT M. E. CHURCH

About two hundred and fifty members of the Epworth League of the Pasadena District, were entertained at a banquet served Friday evening in the banquet room of the First Methodist Church of this city. Delegates were present from about twenty leagues including about fifty from Pasadena and smaller groups from South Pasadena, Altadena and Alhambra. The dinner was enlivened at intervals by the official yells of the leagues represented and by league songs, considerable rivalry along this line developing. Following the dinner a stunt program was put on, the Pasadena delegation contributing a mock orchestra from its Junior League which rendered a most amusing program. Glendale's contribution was a vocal trio composed of Misses Margaret Lusby, Dorothy Peart and Eva Thede.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. Lincoln A. Ferris, pastor of the First Methodist Church of San Diego, a distinguished man in Methodist circles who received an ovation of applause when introduced, who made a very fine, inspiring address.

DR. ECKLES NOW HEALTH OFFICER

Dr. J. E. Eckles says his appointment as Health Officer to succeed Dr. Raymond Chase, resigned, came as a surprise to him and at first he was very doubtful if he could accept. But when the necessity of someone of his experience in the duties of the office assuming the work at this critical time was put before him, he concluded to take up the work. He was assistant to Dr. Chase a part of the time during the first flu epidemic and in full charge when the latter was confined at home by cases in his own family so he is well qualified to take up the duties of the position.

JOHN BERRY IMPROVING

John Berry of 237 South Orange, who has been at the point of death from pneumonia for several days past, is considerably better this morning and hopes of his recovery are entertained. He is a grandson of Mrs. J. H. Berry, who died Wednesday.

COKER'S CANDIDACY

GLENDALE MAN WOULD REPRESENT FIFTH DISTRICT ON BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

Harry P. Coker, a resident of Glendale at 1126 East Wilson Avenue, proprietor of the Crystal Ice Company of Glendale and the Home Ice Company of Hollywood, has consented to become a candidate for the office of Supervisor in the Fifth Supervisorial District of Los Angeles county.

Mr. Coker is no stranger to the citizens of Los Angeles county, having been identified in many ways with important affairs of the county. For a number of years he was a member of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale during which term of office he was chairman of the Finance Committee. His resignation was voluntary, in the spring of 1914. At the time of the activities of the Glendale Merchants' Association Mr. Coker was an active member. In the entire history of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce and similar organizations Mr. Coker has always been a leader and has not at any time depended upon others for his course of action. He was always an independent thinker—being extremely original and practical in his ideas.

For a number of years Mr. Coker was engaged in the fuel, feed and grain business and made a marked success of that business. For the past four years he has been interested in the manufacture of ice on a large scale and now is successfully operating a large plant in Glendale and one in Hollywood.

Mr. Coker has many friends in the fifth Supervisorial District who will be pleased to hear of his intention to become a candidate for the very important office of supervisor.

DAWSONS RETURN TO COLORADO

John Dawson and wife, who moved to Glendale from near Denver, Colo., last December, buying the property at 361 West Wilson Avenue, have just sold it to C. E. Russell. Mrs. Dawson was so homesick for the "old plantation" that Mr. Dawson thought the best way to work a cure was to take her back to that winter clime. He is confident they will return to Glendale ere many months pass.

YOUR NEW BATTERY

IS NEW ONLY AS LONG AS IT REMAINS UNCHARGED SAYS MR. BLIX

Some interesting information to local motorists and storage battery owners is supplied in the following paragraphs by Mr. Blix, the Prest-O-Lite "Green Seal" battery distributor here:

"Perhaps you have wondered," says Mr. Blix, "why your apparently new battery lacks power—and why it needs to be replaced in such a comparatively short space of time?

"A storage battery, no matter how good it may be, has only so much life, energy or vitality. Even if a battery left the factory in the very best possible condition, the time spent en route to your dealer and the long months it has been in stock filled with powerful acids that daily tear away its life and energy has caused a deterioration equal to months of actual service.

"In other words, a battery is new only as long as it remains empty and uncharged—just as soon as it receives acid and the first charge, its active life has started.

"The Prest-O-Lite 'Green Seal' battery makers after long years of experimental work have evolved a process that has proved entirely successful, by which they are able to ship their batteries 'green.' They are assembled at the factory but shipped minus the acid.

"When you buy a 'Green Seal' battery it receives acid and its first charge the day you put it in your car, which partly accounts for the extra long life and power of Prest-O-Lite 'Green Seal' batteries."

AUTO INSURANCE

GREAT INCREASE IN VOLUME OF BUSINESS OF AUTOMOBILE CLUB

Independent enterprise manifested by motor car owners of Southern California has had its own reward as shown by the volume of business increase last year in the insurance department of the Automobile Club of Southern California, the first of its kind to appear in America.

According to a statement issued yesterday for the year of 1919, it is shown that the volume of business transacted by the Club in 1919, through its Inter-Insurance Exchange, reached the astonishing total of $1,347,000 as against a total of $628,253 for the preceding year.

This is what co-operation among motorists can accomplish, it is pointed out by club officers, and this co-operation has its own reward in the service given by the Auto Club in return for the support accorded it through the members.

Where there were 79 employes of the Insurance Department of the organization in 1918, that number was increased to 162 in 1919 in order to supply service for the increase in volume of business handled.

More than $300,000 was saved to individual automobile owners last year who had taken out their insurance with the Automobile club, states the annual report. Of this, $250,000 was actually saved in original discounts. During the year, approximately $65,000 was returned in cash to insured members in premiums returned upon expiration.

In 1918 about $150,000 was the amount saved to members through the Inter-Insurance Exchange, making an increase of double this amount in one year.

Whether or not the Southern California idea is popular among those who have so far taken advantage of it is shown in the fact that there are about 21,900 motorists now insured through the Auto Club, where there were 12,549 in 1918.

It is not a profit-making proposition, it is pointed out, since all surplus is put into reserves and returned to the insured members. They are thus assured of full protection without parallel in insurance circles.

What effect the appalling number of accidents registered all over the United States in 1919 will have on insurance rates this year is problematical, according to Auto Club directors. Not only has Southern California suffered an abnormal loss in accident and theft carnivals, but so also has the East.

At the present time there is a persistent rumor in Eastern insurance marts of trade that rates on theft and accident are going to soar skyward in the near future unless motorists take it into their heads to cut out the boulevard jazz stuff and get down to the business of operating their cars like rational human beings.

The situation in Southern California is acute now, and has been acute for the past five months, say the officials. It will be the automobile owners themselves who will bring on an increase in insurance rates, it is pointed out, and the penalty they will pay for their carelessness will not be a light one, and it will hit each individual right where he lives—namely, in his little old pocketbook.

If such a contemplated rate increase is actually put into effect, it will probably be for forty per cent over the present rate. Forty cents more on every dollar's worth of insurance taken out should be a concrete lesson to motorists to cut down on their reckless driving parties, state the authorities.

Rock bottom rates on insurance, commensurate with the most reliable protection possible, has been the policy of the Automobile Club in the past, and that this policy is to continue in the future was the assurance given the motoring public yesterday in the report from the Board of Directors.

United States courts have recently held that if an automobile is seized for carrying liquor upon which the Federal revenue has not been paid, the car is subject to confiscation, even though it is only partly paid for and the innocent owner will not be allowed to set up his claim for possession of the car because it remained unpaid for.

What is the average life of a Moreland Truck?

We don't know. We can answer any question about the Moreland Truck but that. The order for the first Moreland Distillate Truck was placed in September, 1911, and that truck is still in daily service. Eight years is not sufficient time to accurately estimate the life of a Moreland truck but it is long enough time to determine that the Moreland truck possesses in superlative degree those two qualities demanded by all truck users, viz: fuel economy and absolute dependability.

Some Moreland users have found that the fuel saving in the Moreland over other trucks amounts to 20 per cent of the cost of the truck. The Moreland gasifier makes distillate burning real economy. It does away with motor troubles traceable to incomplete combustion and consequently lengthens the life of the engine. It lessens carbon deposits, precludes the use of high grade gasoline; in short, cuts the cost of fuel in half. We can prove it.

As for dependability, the very worst conditions of operation a truck may be called upon to stand are anticipated and met in design, material and careful workmanship. The Moreland is build for California needs and topographically California presents conditions that are equal to those of all other states. In the northern mountainous region the winters are most severe, in the Imperial Valley the summer temperature often reaches 130 degrees. The Moreland was built to meet these conditions, to combat the shifting sands of the deserts, where water is scarce and gasoline expensive and where exposed parts are quickly ground and cut to pieces by the grit and sand thrown on them by the wind and the motion of the wheels. The Moreland is made to overcome the difficulties of the steep mountain roads.

In every situation in which a truck is likely to find itself, the Moreland has made good.

HERE'S TOM MIX WITH NEW MUCH ADMIRED HUDSON CAR

It's a constant source of gratification to Los Angeles motorists to hear the comments of eastern visitors over the number of unusually beautiful cars here. Sometimes the special bodies and striking color schemes make it difficult for them to identify the make of car so glorified, but a glimpse of the radiator usually gives the information.

Lately, however, a number of people have been puzzled by a car they have seen. Every inquirer about the new car on the market gave the same description, "One of the most striking cars I have ever seen, wonderful coloring and everything."

No one seemed to be able to tell them who manufactured or sold the Mix car until a Hollywood motor firm happened to describe the special fittings of a car they had recently sold.

THE FORD IN RUMANIA

FORDSON AUTOTRACTOR TO PLAY IMPORTANT PART IN RECONSTRUCTION

According to a recent report from the American Trade Agent at Bucharest, Rumania, received by the Ford Motor Co.'s Foreign Department, New York City, a consignment of 200 Ford Motor cars and 180 Fordson Tractors was amongst "the first since the end of the war, and may be considered the most important" because of the part they will play in the reconstruction of battle-scarred Rumania.

Speaking of the arrival of the tractors, the report said, "The Fordson Autotractor, though completely unknown in Rumania, obtained a very great success at its first demonstrations which were followed with the greatest interest by a great number of farmers on account of its remarkable qualities and of the services it can do in this country where the work animals have been completely destroyed by the invasion of the enemy during the war.

"More than three-quarters of the stock arrived has already been sold; is employed all over the country to the delight of the Rumanian farmers who are seeing here a great future for the autotractor."

Reporting on the sale of the motor cars, the trade agent says: "The Ford automobiles were sold immediately on their arrival and the Noel Company is waiting very anxiously a second consignment of 120 machines which have been ordered at the Ford manufactory and which for the greater part are already reserved by their customers."

Shipments of argicultural machinery from the Oliver Chilled Plow Works, the American Seeding Machinery Company and the Roderic Lean Manufacturing Company to be used in connection with the Fordson tractor have also been received in Bucharest.

OVERLAND-GLENDALE MOTOR COMPANY SAYS FACTORY IS SPEEDING UP

The Overland-Glendale Motor Company, who have recently taken over the distribution of the Overland Four and Willys-Knight cars, for Glendale, Burbank and Eagle Rock and the surrounding territory, report that the Willys-Overland Co.'s plant at Toledo, is working night and day to catch up with the unprecedented demand for the Overland Four. Their production now is about 600 complete cars per day, and before the year is out they expect to reach a daily production figure of 2000 cars.

A. B. Lawrence, the resident manager for the Overland-Glendale Motor Company, has had considerable experience with the Overland Four, having been with the Los Angeles Branch of the Willys-Overland-Pacific Company since his discharge from the Naval Air Service, over a year ago. Mr. Lawrence says that in his automobile experience he has never driven a car that has been as genuinely satisfactory from every angle as the Light Overland Four Sedan that he is now using.

Walter B. Montgomery, his assistant, was formerly an Overland salesman in Los Angeles, and has for several years been a resident of Eagle Rock.

While Glendale has not been able to secure as many of the Overland Fours as there has been a demand for, the condition is rapidly getting better, and there will soon be enough cars to go around.

RIGHT USE OF WEALTH

Mrs. James L. Paul of Upland has given $75,000 to build a new hospital for that community. If the good lady lives awhile after the hospital is in operation she will get at least $75,000,000 worth of happiness from the contemplation of the good she did with her money. There is a wonderful opportunity for the man or woman with money to do good. There is so much sickness and sorrow in the world that money, if used in the right way can heal. How much better it is for the person with money to get "his money's worth" in seeing the good his wealth can accomplish rather than hoarding it for heirs to quarrel over after he is gone. "It's only what we give away that we can take with us into the next world," it has been said.

Mr. and Mrs. Le Roy Bramble of 622 North Columbus Avenue are entertaining Mr. Bramble's brother, E. C. Bramble, who is here from Grand Rapids, Mich. It is his first visit to California and he is much pleased with the country. He will be here for about a month.

Wells of Riviera, Cal., sister and sister-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Creyts in whose home they are making their headquarters while in California. The Wernettes are closely linked with these friends because they, too, came from Michigan and because the Creyts and Wernettes made the transcontinental journey together.

Under-Insured

Because you have a few thousands of insurance are you "rolling the sweet morsel under your tongue," telling this to the man who is trying to get you to protect your estate adequately, and really believing that you have done so?

Why, these days, even the POOREST citizen carries a thousand or two of insurance!

With your ability to make money what is YOUR life worth?

Insure your BRAINS—your earning capacity—the REAL value of your life.

Be sure that your wife has at least $100 a month in case you should suddenly pass out—little enough, and buy it in "the Provident"—lowest net cost.

THE BUSINESS OF STATION 14

Spencer Robinson says his real estate business will continue without interruption at his office on South Glendale Avenue in the Bank of Glendale building though he was obliged to give up the postoffice. He did so reluctantly because it was a great accommodation to the residents of that part of the city as shown by records of the business transacted. Money orders alone averaged about $75 per day, he says, and stamp sales and parcel post business ran in the neighborhood of $150 per day. For this service the government allowed him $8 per month the first year and $12 per month the second year. While Mrs. Myton was with him she managed to sandwich it in with other work, but when she was called to a sick relative in the East it was a different proposition which he did not feel equal to because it demanded such prompt and constant service. He might be negotiating with a customer on some big real estate transaction and there would be a call to sell a 2-cent stamp or a postal card. If the applicant did not receive immediate attention a complaint was likely to be made to the government. He could not afford to meet the requirements and give the service demanded for the compensation, hence gave up the station.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

MR. AND MRS. CLINTON BOOTH CELEBRATE NATAL DAY OF THEIR DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Booth of 123 West Lomita Avenue are entertaining with a family dinner this (Saturday) evening for Mr. Booth's brother and sister-in-law of Colorado, who have been spending the winter in Long Beach with their daughter, Mrs. Lempkay, and children, Katherine and Lornel Lempkay. It will also be a celebration of the sixteenth birthday of the daughter of the host and hostess, Miss Josephine Booth, who was born on Washington's birthday and who—her mother says, should have been named Georgiana. The national colors and Washington emblems will feature the function, a handsome birthday cake having the place of honor. Little flags on tiny standards will mark each place, and spring flowers will be used in decoration of the living rooms.

ENTERTAIN EASTERN FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Berger of 403 East Lomita, recently entertained quite a group of friends which included Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Shaver and their son Clayton, of Colorado Springs, who are spending the winter in Long Beach. Mr. Shaver is a cousin of Mr. Berger. He is very much delighted with Glendale and wishes he had selected it instead of the beach for his headquarters. He intimates he will come again next year and may buy in Glendale. The Bergers say he and Mrs. Shaver would make very desirable residents. Other members of the party were Mrs. Fred Toller, cousin of Mrs. Berger, and her daughter, Gertrude Toller of Pasadena, also another cousin, Miss Ivy Paul, who recently came to Pasadena from Polo, Illinois, to stay. She is a business woman and secured a good position with a large concern in Los Angeles a few days after she arrived.

CELEBRATION AT M. E. PARSONAGE

Thursday evening a small dinner party was given at the parsonage of the First Methodist Church on N. Jackson Street in celebration of the birthday of Mrs. Clyde Monroe Crist. Those present besides the members of her immediate family were her father, A. J. Drury of Los Angeles, and her husband's mother, Mrs. C. B. Crist, also of Los Angeles. Mr. Drury returned to the city this morning. Mrs. Crist will remain for the week-end. The celebration was an especially happy one because of the recovery of members of the family who have been ill. Robert Kenneth Crist, son of the house, has completely recovered from his serious attack of the "flu" and will participate in the Epworth League banquet program tonight. If Pasadena High School opens Monday as promised, he will return to his school work there where he is captain of one of the R. O. T. C. companies. Dr. Crist is also quite restored and plans to be in his pulpit twice on Sunday.

Wright for the Methodist Church on foreign missions and Dr. Willisford for the Congregational Church on Near East Relief. Mrs. Byron Wilson of South Glendale also made a short address.

Why Has the Glendale Laundry So Large a Patronage?

Because the employes of the laundry are Glendale people who, as far as possible, spend their money in Glendale stores. People generally are fair enough to see the justice of patronizing this local institution as long as they get as good service here as elsewhere.

Don't you feel this way about it?

LIVE COLE CLASS BANQUET

The third annual banquet of the Live Cole Class of the Central Christian S. S. was held Thursday evening in the church bungalow. In spite of the rain there were 30 present. Miss Birdie Shropshire, president of the class, was toastmaster, and her introductions of the speakers were full of wit and happy allusions. Mrs. Helen McBryde welcomed the members who have come into the class the past year, and she was responded to by Mrs. Harry Lynch, one of them. Rev. C. A. Cole, teacher of the class, also made an address, after which a class song, composed by Miss Birdie Shropshire, the president, was sung, to the tune of "Tipperary." Then followed the banquet prepared by some of the ladies of the church. Some games were played, Homer Miller gave some mystifying tricks in magic, and Miss Dorothy Webster sang. Mr. Dawson of the film studio at Culver City was a guest at the banquet.

Haines; Idella Edna Radcliff has bought income property at the corner of Harvard and Isabel, two houses on one lot and a vacant lot, of Frederic L. Howland; Stella Jones has sold her house and lot at 210 Fairview to Mrs. Rosa J. Vogel, who, with her husband, recently came here from Cincinnati, Ohio, on solicitation of their friends, the Hartmans; Joseph W. Covington and wife have acquired the lot and rear house at 423 Oak, owned by Mrs. Margaret Shaver; Chas. E. Russell has bought the residence property at 361 West Wilson Avenue, owned by John Dawson. These are a few of the many sales effected so far this month and were all made by the Kerker & MacMillan agency. While the movement of property is not as lively as it was before the first of the year, there is yet a very healthy activity in this line.

Owners Praise It For Its Comfort

The delightful comfort with which five adult persons ride in the Cleveland Six touring car has appealed to buyers everywhere. The wide, soft-cushion seats, upholstered in genuine hand-buffed plaited leather, are cozy as cozy can be. And the low underslung spring construction, a feature of the Cleveland Six chassis, subdues the road-shock long before it can reach the cushions.

Many unusual qualities such as these are fast winning friends for the Cleveland Six. Among light weight sixes it stands out distinctly.

At all the principal automobile shows this season it has attracted extraordinary crowds. Men of mechanical interests and men experienced in the use of motor cars have been generous in their expression of approval and admiration for the entire design and construction of the Cleveland Six chassis. The several beautiful styles of body, mounted on this one chassis, have met with praise from men and women alike.

When you see or drive the Cleveland Six, you want it.

REMARKABLE TEST

CLEVELAND LIGHT SIX DRIVEN UP MT. HAMILTON WITHOUT FAN BELT

With its fan belt removed and its water pump rendered inoperative a Cleveland Light Six touring car carrying four persons has been successfully driven up Mount Hamilton in Northern California according to a report received by Bartlett & French, local Cleveland distributors.

The trip up the mountain, on which the Lick observatory is located, is 150 miles. During the ride the car was not stopped "to cool off" nor was it otherwise spared. The party of four members of the Peacock Motor Sales Co. San Francisco, Cleveland distributors, left Oakland at 8:45 a. m. and reached Lick Observatory at 12:00 o'clock. The party stopped for lunch and completed the trip at Oakland at 5:10 in the evening.

Stanley D. Lewin, of San Francisco, acted as observer and at the end of the trip made an affidavit describing the remarkably successful radiation test without fan belt or water pump

The car was stock and no adjustments were made beyond the removal of the fan belt and the operation which rendered the water pump useless.

ADVENTISTS IN SESSION

stitution and make the individual prey to prevalent diseases. While the use of narcotics and condiments have a deleterious effect upon the human system, they are not the only means by which one's health may be ruined. We must, said Mr. Hansen, observe all of nature's laws if we would have strong, well bodies.

That the human race has not, at the present time, the strength to resist disease which it possessed a generation ago, is evidenced by the scourges which sweep the land, said Mr. Hansen. He called attention to the fact that in spite of the triumphs of medical science and the control of such epidemic diseases as smallpox and tyyhoid fever, through the efficient work of public health boards and medical men, yet individual diseases, affecting the heart, the lungs and various other organs of the body, are steadily increasing. He said the Chicago Board of Health, during the first wave of the influenza, a year ago, gave four days to a thorough study of the disease in an effort to learn some means of combating and controlling it, but these experienced physicians admitted they had not even discovered the cause of the disease.

"God is not the author of disease," said Mr. Hansen. "Satan is the destroyer; Christ the restorer. When you come in contact with Jesus and his gospel, you come in contact with healing. Jesus is the healer of soul and body.

"Fashion is at war with nature. The devil is using every means he can to ruin men, physically and spiritually. Every natural function of the body is for the making and keeping of health. The law of our being is intended to keep us well. It is only when we violate that law persistently that we become ill. 'The curse causeless shall not come.' Natural laws are the laws of God. If any of us are ill it is because natural laws have been violated.

"Physical healing is evidence of the power of the gospel. True gospel teaching must combine with it the message of physical healing. Any gospel movement which does not have associated with it the healing of disease is not a whole gospel message. The instruction given in the Bible, as we find in James 5:14, is that if any are sick they shall call for the elders of the church. The promise is given that 'the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him.'

"God does not bring death. There is only one man the Lord ever took. He did not die. His name is Enoch. Yet how many preachers tell us when people die that the Lord has taken them. Three hundred thousand babies die every year. A mother loses her babe, but God didn't take it, friends. It was bad milk, or some insanitary condition, or some other cause that brought about the infant's death. God does not set the death rate of man. Instead of the epitaph 'Taken by the Lord,' it often should be written, 'Died from Overeating' or 'Died from Bad Air' or 'Died from Under-sleeping.' God is not a Herod of destruction nor a Moloch, destroying infants.

"God has so arranged it that sin shall run itself out. Physical transgression brings its physical penalty. When we knowingly, continually and willfuly violate the laws of health we are sinning. Years ago when I first learned about health principles, I did not fully understand them, but as I studied I found it a very broad subject. Rightly understood and applied, true health principles will enable us to get the very best out of life. God has given us richly of things to enjoy, and he expects us to get the joy out of living. Some people think it is a sin to eat anything that tastes good, but in the instruction given Seventh-day Adventists concerning the preparation of healthful food, you will find housewives are counseled over and over again to prepare palatable food.

"Has it ever occurred to you that when Satan is oppressing a man, if he chooses, he can withdraw his oppression? If I am choking a man and choose to let him go, I could do it, but I do not deserve credit because the man does not die. Many people are suffering from imaginary diseases. Nine-tenths of diseases have their origi in the mind. There are many people who are really healed of imaginary trouble. There are many other people who imagine that they are healed of real disease.

"Our health work is not a part of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination merely because a few men pleased to have it so. It had its origin in heaven. It belongs to us. It is to do its part in fitting and preparing a people for the coming of Christ. That makes it an Adventist message.

"We can not make everybody well by city ordinances or state laws. We must go into the private life of individuals, not to regulate them, but to try to get men and women to regulate their own lives in harmony with the laws of nature, which are the laws of God. Disease is an effort on the part of nature to free the system from conditions resulting from violation of the laws of health. Even disease itself is an effort at healing. Fever is but the burning up of poisons in the system. To a certain extent it is beneficial, but when it gets too high, and begins to consume the individual it is dangerous."

Delegates assembled in conference yesterday passed resolutions cutting off Western Colorado from the Pacific Union Conference, providing for the better support of Seventh-day Adventist parochial schools and requesting Adventist sanitariums on the Pacific Coast so to modify their nurses' training courses that competent individuals will be provided to instruct church members in health principles and to take positions as medical secretaries in the various local conferences. It was also recommended that each local conference employ a medical secretary for the developing of the health and medical interests of the conference.

Elder M. A. Hollister, superintendent of the Nevada field, presented a memorial from the Adventists of that state in which they call attention to the growth which has come in the last few years, and requested organization.

"Believing that the work will be more fully strengthened," reads the memorial, "and our constituency more fully encouraged to share the responsibility of our work in this territory, if it should appeal to your body, to authorize the organization of our field into a conference, we now having all offices and facilities in operation for the carrying on of a conference organization, we do present this memorial for your consideration with the suggestion that our membership be organized into a conference, to be known as the Nevada Conference of Seventh-day Adventists."

In an endeavor to bring about more uniform and adequate support for parochial school teachers, the delegates passed the following resolution:

"Whereas, The present plan for the financial support of our elementary and immediate schools by means of tuition, uncertain donations, and subscriptions secured by local boards does not provide the systematic financial backing so essential to the successful operation of these schools; therefore

"We recommend, That the union conference committee give study to this matter at the earliest possible date, in order that the plan may be ready to present at the first local biennial conference session to be held this year.

"We recommend, That the educational department of the General Conference be requested to give consideration some such plan as the following for insuring greater permanency of service for our teachers.

"(1) That all executive officers such as president, principals, and managers be elected for the same term of office as the officers and secretaries of the conferences which the respective schools serve.

"(2) That all teachers who have qualified by two years of successful service, be elected on a continuous tenure of position, leaving it to the wisdom of the board of management to determine the length of their service, and to terminate the same at any time, after due notice."

The delegates gave consideration to the need of providing evangelistic agencies for the Spanish-speaking people in this field, and decided to unite with the Southwestern Union Conference and the General Conference in establishing a first class training school for them, centrally located in the Southwest, the school to be opened next fall.

J. A. Neilsen of Grand Junction, Colo., was ordained to the gospel ministry at the Seventh-day Adventist service last night. Those officiating in the ceremony were Elder J. W. Christian, who offered the prayer, Elder Arthur G. Daniells, who delivered the ordination charge, and Elder H. S. Shaw of Fresno, who extended the welcome on behalf of the conference.

"Qualifications of the Gospel Minister," was the subject of the evening's discourse, delivered by Elder Daniells, who is president of the General Conference of the Adventists, embracing the entire world field. He said the denomination is employing 10,000 paid laborers, of whom about one-third are preachers and licensed missionaries, 700 are conference presidents, treasurers and stenographers, 800 are employed in printing establishments, 2000 are circulating literature, 2000 are employed in sanitariums and treatment rooms, and 2000 are teachers in Adventist parochial schools, academies and colleges. In addition to these, he said, the Adventists have an army of 25,000 volunteer workers, including local church elders, clerks, treasurers, missionary leaders, Sabbath school superintendents, and teachers, young people's leaders, and others.

"The minister must be wide awake," said Mr. Daniells. "If true to his trust, he is under the leadership of God, and His providence will be over him for good. It is 40 years since I entered the ministry, and I know God's hand led me. It seemed difficult for me to gain a place anywhere, but finally I did get an opportunity to labor in Texas. We then had no Adventists in that state, no income and no encouragement. I worked away doggedly for a year and three months, and at the end of that time was awarded $35 for the service Mrs. Daniells and I had rendered. We had paid our own railway fare down there, and had spent all we had. If I told you the whole truth I would say we got to the very bottom of our purse, spending the last money we had, to pay my wife's fare home to her father. I went to work at day labor for $1 a day to obtain money so we could go on with our gospel work. It seemed pretty hard, but a thousand times I have been grateful for that experience. No college ever taught me a more valuable lesson than the one I learned during those two years of difficulty and struggling to gain a foothold.

"Bible characters bear witness to the leading of God, even some times through hard places. I think of Joseph. Every step of his life, from the time he was mistreated by his brothers and sold at public auction to be a slave in the home of a heathen,—every incident, I say, of his life was a providence. The experience through which he passed in jail was needed in order that he might walk with proper poise when he was elevated to the second place in the kingdom, and became the ruler of Egpyt.

"We must grow. To the young preachers here tonight, to those holding various responsibilities, let me say, we must set our hearts on development, on strength, on efficiency. The gospel worker ought to increase in ability to bear burdens. That sort of ambition is acceptable with heaven. As preachers we ought to study that which will give us strength of mind and breadth of vision, and avoid that which will make us weak.

"There is no sort of effort which shows so marvelously in a man as carrying burdens as a minister. Exercises in physical culture do not show as clearly and quickly upon the body as the earnest devotion and the burden-bearing of the worker do in his spiritual development.

"The minister, whether he is ordained or serves as a layman, should have faith in his ministry, faith in God as supreme, and faith in the Bible as His revelation to man. He should have faith in the views he proclaims. It was the apostle Paul's robust faith in what he taught that gave such weight and power to his teaching.

"A minister should be earnest in his service. If Bible truths are worth believing and accepting, then their proclamation is worth all the earnestness, all the zeal, all the devotion we can put into our efforts. There is a vast difference between carrying one's burden upon the soul, and going along indifferently, just sallying along as it were, in a happy-go-lucky sort of way. The way a man carries his burden is evidenced by the fruit he gathers.

"May God help us to carry the burden of our work upon our hearts. That does not mean we should worry, nor be fidgety or nervous about it. But it means we ought to feel tremendously concerned over our work while we are at it, from the time we start in the morning, until we stop at night we ought to center our thought upon it, taking seriously to heart the work before us. When we have done our level best, we can say at the close of the day, 'Lord, accept my service; though poorly done, for it is the best I could do.' I believe we can throw ourselves intensively into our work and not worry about it.

"It is easy to worry, but it does no good whatever. Long ago I made up my mind that worry was not work and that it was work God wanted of me, not worry. I made up my mind I would not worry, nor fret, nor allow myself to feel undue anxiety nor alarm, that I would do my level best, and let God take care of results. I have made it a practice for years, especially since I have been at the General Conference, to do all I could when I was at work, and when I pulled down the roll top of my desk, to go home and dismiss the burdens from my mind. I leave it all there, and in the morning return and address myself to it.

"When I advocate hard work, I don't advocate the kind of work that wears people out. Work doesn't hurt men. It does us good. We live better under stiff, hard work. One of the worst things any of us can do, and especially we who are getting along in years, is to throw up our hands, and permit ourselves to be laid on the shelf.

"The application of the mind to earnest, thorough study of our message and all that pertains to it and its proclamation, to study of the Word of God, of conditions we face, of problems confronting us, focusing our attention upon the message and the obstacles that stand in the way, and never giving up until we have mastered them, this is required of the minister of the gospel. Solving problems gives us strength.

"The minister must be absolutely honest and straightforward. It is a great privilege to be associated with a man who lives what he teaches, who is honest and upright in every particular. The minister of Christ ought to avoid all deception, all politics, all wire-pulling, all rounding of the corners. We are easily misunderstood, but in time an absolutely true, honest, sincere life will survive all misunderstandings and misinterpretations.

"In no vocation is there demanded such absolute honesty as in that of the gospel minister. The representative of Christ must pay his debts; he must tell the truth; he must be absolutely honest in his business dealings; he must be clean in his life. The minister is set to guard, to preserve in every way the honor, fidelity, loyalty and purity of God's church. If he himself is harboring in his own heart sin and deceit and disloyalty, these become, because of his high position and profession, the greatest of all sins. We must so live in our communities that our word will be worth 100 cents on the dollar. I would rather give a man ten times what is rightfully his due than to have him lose confidence in my Christianity.

"'We live today in the most thrilling period of the world's history. We face today marvelous events transpiring about us. We are in a wonderful age. It is a time for the church to be wide awake, and whole-hearted in service, entering every avenue open before us, going forth conquering and to conquer."

The conference will close Sunday night.

The Lucky Thirteen, a club of young women, all of whom were graduated from the class of 1913, Glendale Union High, was entertained recently at a Valentine dinner by Mrs. G. E. Candee of Eagle Rock. Lois Candee, daughter of the hostess, who passed away about a year ago, was a much beloved member of the organization.

THE MAN WITH A BACKBONE

How encouraging it is to occasionally find a man in a business community who possesses a real backbone. It has become so customary for men who are engaged in business to sidestep from responsibility on public questions. The excuse offered is, "If I take any stand on this question, it will interfere with my business." The lack of able business men who are ready and willing to take an active part in the deciding of civic and municipal affairs is a marked drawback to the success of a community.

The nation, state, county, city and school have all suffered on account of the inactivity of the citizenship of these respective territories. A large part of this inactivity is caused by a lack of backbone on the part of citizens to stand up for what they know to be right. However, there are many people who never give their backbone a chance to exercise for they never familiarize themselves with any question that is for the good of the public.

It is the imperative duty of every citizen to become interested in all propositions that are up for consideration that may be for the welfare of the community in which he lives. It may be truthfully said that there are two sides to every question but it is very unusual to have both sides of equal importance, so it is the duty of the good citizen to inquire into the merits of the question being considered and intelligently decide for himself which side he should support. If the question is one of importance a good citizen should not be slow in using his influence on the side of what he considers is right. The way some men have of shirking all responsibility when consdering the affairs of their city and schools is one that is not to be commended.

It is possible to discuss the pro and con of a question in an intelligent manner without any of the parties concerned using abusive language. The individual who takes the weak side of a question is the cause often of bringing out important argument on both sides and in this way the question up for consideration is better understood because of the friendly discussion.

By all means it is the duty of every voter to become interested in the affairs of the nation—not to follow in the steps of his foreparents and be forever tied to the democratic or republican party but to be an independent thinker. An independent thinker and an independent actor is one who has real backbone, and is not afraid to make known to his neighbors how he stands upon a community question. The practice that has been followed by a few bullies of denouncing as brainless and weak-minded every man who differs with them in views is a most contemptible one and should be suppressed by every good citizen.

ORANGE YIELD LIGHT

The navel orange season is about half gone. It generally comes in with December or the latter part of November in this part of the state and lasts till about May 1, when the Valencias come in. Two or three hundred miles north of us, around Exeter and Porterville, the crop is a month earlier. Walter Richardson of 612 East Broadway, who for several years has bought the fruit from various groves in Glendale for wholesale and retail purposes, says that the navel orange yield this season is only about 40 per cent of normal, but lemons and grapefruit are about up to the usual average. Tangerines are being grown in a small way around here, also. Although there have been several sharp frosts this season, the fruit has not been damaged in the slightest. While Glendale is not to be considered as an important center of the citrus fruit industry, yet it has several good-sized groves and two packing houses that ship many cars of fruit each year.

"ONE-FOURTH APACHE"

Rainy weather enabled Miss Francelia Billington to have a day at home. She reports that she has just finished a picture for the Fox Company under the working title of "One-Fourth Apache," in which she has taken the part of a Western girl. She is to start on another for the Fox people in about a week at Sonora in the central part of the state. It also is a Western play. She will leave here Wednesday. After completing this picture she will probably return to the Universal Company.

"Matrimoney" is the way one paper spelled it the other day, by mistake. But the more we think it over the more we feel that that's the correct way to spell it.
